9. [] Called Ralph Devlin, Staff Assistant, House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, concerning the prospects of the so-called 80 Point Retirement Program introduced by Representative Dominick Daniels (D., N.J.). He explained the background and although it is too early to make a firm prediction, he felt the prospects for passage were dim.

[] I called J. Sourwine, Chief Counsel, Subcommittee on Internal Security, Committee on the Judiciary, and informed him that the Agency had not made a security review of a proposed book by Ernest Halperin, MIT, entitled "The National Liberation Movements in Latin America." Nor, was there any other Agency involvement. I informed Sourwine that there was a paper by Halperin, on the same subject written in June, 1969 for the Center for International Studies, MIT, and that a copy could be procured through the State Department. Sourwine requested that I secure a copy for him.
